Groton Center Pollinator Project Proposal Background and Plan

Pollinators are essential because they allow plants to reproduce. They are responsible for the reproduction of almost all flowering plants. Pollination is the act of moving pollen from the male anther of a flower to the female stigma of a flower of the same species. This allows the transfer of genetic material, resulting in the production of seeds, fruits, and the next generation of plants. Native pollinators provide pollination services to more than 180,000 different plant species and more than 1200 crops. One out of every three bites of food that you eat is from a pollinated plant. In addition to the food that we eat, pollinators support healthy ecosystems that clean the air, stabilize soils, and support wildlife.

Scientists have brought our attention to declining pollinator populations due primarily to habitat loss and pesticide use. Pollution, diseases, and climate change are also contributing to declining and shifting pollinator populations. Scientific research over the last three decades has shown that conservation techniques work. Habitat creation and restoration can change the future for pollinators. Our food supply and ecosystems depend on healthy pollinator populations. Planting pollinator gardens helps people and wildlife, supports sustainable environments, and contributes to biodiversity.

The pollinator habitat at the Groton Center is a conservation project to help offset the loss of pollinator habitat. It is a long-term low maintenance habitat for native butterflies, bees, and hummingbirds. It is planted with perennials, woody vines, and shrubs that provide three seasons of overlapping bloom times. The habitat is registered with the Million Pollinator Garden Movement. This program is a nationwide call to action to create pollinator gardens across America to meet our environmental challenge.

The habitat location on the grounds of the Groton Center is adjacent to the Council On Aging that serves our senior citizens and is easily accessible to the public. It is a beautiful relaxing greenspace that uses plants to create an outdoor room. The habitat contains a stone walking path, patios, picnic table, solar fountain, and benches among the plants. In addition to serving the needs of the pollinators, the habitat provides health benefits and enjoyment to all who visit. Medical studies have shown that visiting a natural greenspace for as little as fifteen minutes on a regular basis reduces blood pressure and lowers levels of the stress hormone, cortisol.

The pollinator project plan is to extend the pollinator area by planting a native plant pollinator corridor along the back of the Groton Center property. It will be 80 feet long and will connect the pollinator garden to the Ice Line Trail linkage connection at the Groton Center property line. The Ice Line Trail is part of the Groton Trails Network and the connection linkage area has already been prepared by the Groton Trails Committee. The pollinator corridor will consist of a pedestrian walkway with a border of native pollinator plants and benches. The pedestrian walkway already exists and has a flat even surface that provides a safe walking area for senior citizens. The Sustainability Commission Pollinator Workgroup consists of four members who will be responsible for all remaining work on this project. This includes planting and maintenance. Their contact information is as follows: Alison Peterson (alison.dolbear@gmail.com), Sue Fitterman (sue.fitterman@gmail.com), Jim Allen (jfallengroton@gmail.com), and Linda Loren (lindaleeloren@gmail.com).

In addition to maintaining the open space, the pollinator areas serve as a passive recreational area for the health and wellbeing of the public, and for the preservation of wildlife and the environment. The recreational opportunities offered are walking, picnicking, pollinator viewing, and photography.

Maintenance of the pollinator areas is the responsibility of the four members of the Sustainability Commission Pollinator Workgroup (Alison Peterson, Linda Loren, Jim Allen, Sue Fitterman). The pollinator pathway plants will be planted in June, 2024. The pollinator garden is bordered on two sides by the asphalt parking lot and on the third side by the Groton Center leach field. These areas are maintained by the DPW. The back property border that is the area behind both the pollinator garden and the pollinator pathway abuts private property that is maintained by the property owner. The pollinator areas are in plain sight and simple vigilance by the maintenance group is sufficient to monitor for invasive plants. If any invasive plants appear they will be removed and the Invasive Species Committee will be notified.

The Sustainability Commission is requesting FY24 funding of $3,600 to cover costs of soil amendments, plants, ground cover, water hoses, fence wire and fence posts.

Attachment 1
#19 of the CPC Project Application Form Feasibility Information

There are over 200 towns throughout the Northeast that have set up Pollinator Pathways. In Massachusetts, these towns & areas include:

Amherst, Andover, Boston, Brookline, Cambridge, Cape Cod, Dover, Lincoln, Marblehead, Plymouth, Sherborn, Watertown and Weston.

On a state-wide level, the Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation has worked for the past few years on setting up pollinator gardens, changing meadows to promote native plant diversity, and establishing low or no-mow areas.

In nearby Lincoln, the town has successfully set up and maintained six Pollinator Pathway sites throughout the town:

- Pollinator Meadow (since 2016)
- Lincoln Station Demonstration Garden (since 2020)
- Codman Island (since 2021)
- Stony Brook Trailhead (since 2021)
- Chapman Pasture (since 2022)
- Codman Garden (since 2023)

The Pollinator Meadow has been an established Pollinator Pathway for seven years and has been planted with native wildflowers and perennials and grasses. Native trees and shrubs were added in 2020.

The sites have been planted and successfully maintained by the Lincoln Land Conservation Trust (LLCT) and other organizations, including local schools. The LLCT also developed Native Plant and Pollinator Toolkits that could be used across town on conservation and town lands as well as in private gardens. The town's website provides a map of each Pollinator Pathway site showing available parking and nearby trails, as well as a planting list for each site and photos. Lincoln also holds "Plants and Pollinators" guided walks to highlight native plants and help educate residents and visitors about the importance of providing pesticide-free areas that offer food and habitat for pollinating insects and birds.

Towns that have invested in Pollinator Pathways have reported having the benefits of:

- lower costs for mowing
- improved air quality
- decreased noise levels
- more awareness of water conservation, and
- a healthier environment for pollinators, people and pets.

Subject: Ice Line trail Map

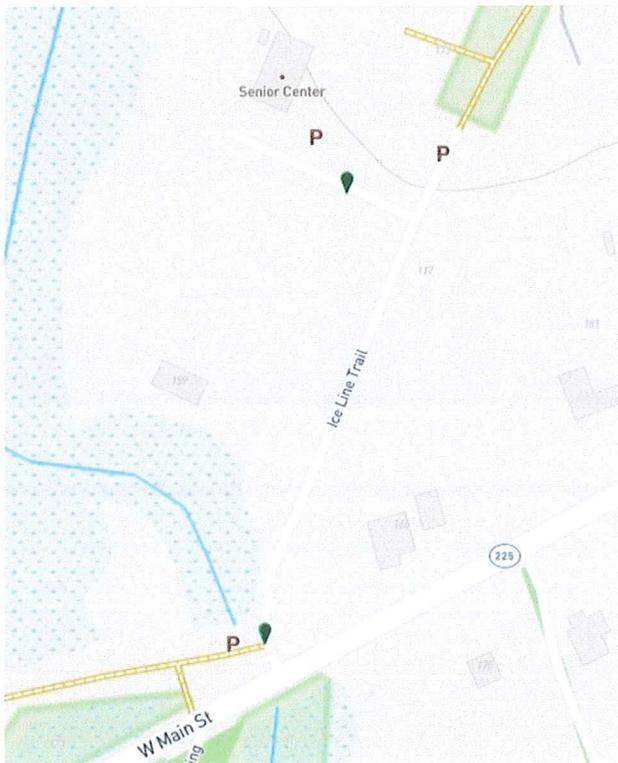

Hi Paul,

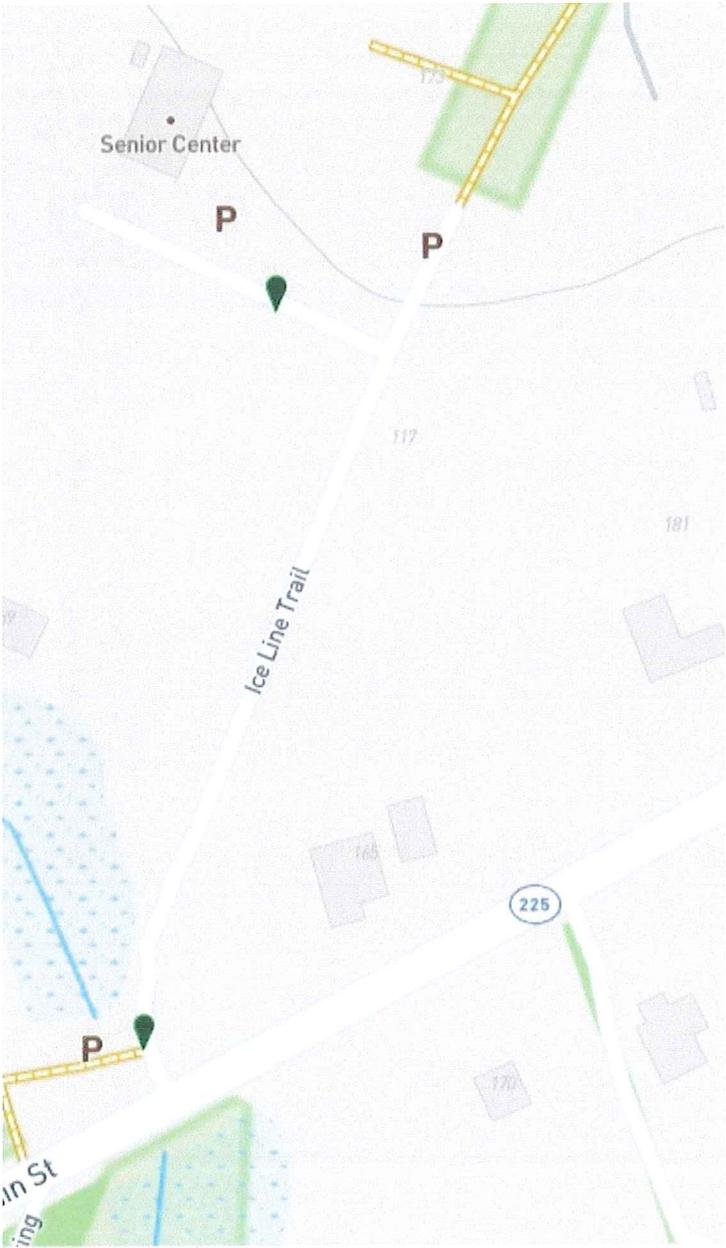

The CPC requested that we add a map of the Ice Line trail showing where it connects to the Groton Center property. Do you have a map that you can send to me? I have a deadline of 2/22 for the final submission.

Thanks,

Alison

RE: Sustainability Commission's "Pollinator Corridor Project" CPA PAP

Dear Community Preservation Committee Members:

The Groton Trails Committee enthusiastically supports the Sustainability Commission's application for $3,600 from Groton's Community Preservation Act funds to create a combined trail and habitat for pollinators on The Groton Center grounds. We have already assisted them in opening a connection through the woods between the Ice Line Trail and The Groton Center parcel. Extending the Garden through the Pollinator Corridor and connecting it to the Ice Line Trail will encourage more people to use both trails. In addition, the Pollinator Garden and Corridor will provide a pleasant and scenic reminder of the importance of protecting wildlife and plant habitats throughout our extraordinarily biodiverse town. The recreational and educational aspects of this modest project support our own goals for the Groton Trails Network, and we therefore offer our strong support for the Sustainability Commission's "Pollinator Corridor Project" application.

Sincerely yours,

Paul G. Funch, Chair

Invasive Species Committee

Letter to Groton Community Preservation Committee in support of the Sustainability Commission grant application for the pollinator garden extension at the Groton Center

To: Groton Community Preservation Committee

Cc: Sustainability Commission

Dear Community Preservation Committee Members,

At our November 27th meeting, the Invasive Species Committee unanimously voted to support the Sustainability Commission's CPC grant application for funding the extension of their pollinator garden at the Groton Center. We request that this work includes a plan for monitoring and maintenance to prevent invasive plant introduction. The Committee appreciates the Sustainability Commission's commitment to enhancing habitat for pollinators in Groton, important to preserving biodiversity and the ecosystem services they provide.

Respectfully,

The Groton Invasive Species Committee

January 9, 2024

Dear Members of the Community Preservation Committee,

This letter is submitted on behalf of the Groton Stewardship committee in support of the Groton Sustainability Commission's project to create a pollinator garden extension at the Groton Center. This is CPC application for the 2025 year.

The Sustainability Commission is requesting CPA funds for the creation of a pollinator garden extension off the Ice Trail at the Groton Center. The proposed project would connect the community garden as well as the pollinator garden at the Groton Center, which are enjoyed by many residents on a regular basis. The creation of the pollinator garden extension is part of a larger initiative led by the Sustainability Commission to eventually create a pollinator corridor across several protected areas in Groton.

Some of the main priorities shared by the Sustainability Commission and the Stewardship Committee are to enhance the town's open spaces, build local resilience to the effects of climate change, and support biodiversity in Groton. The creation of suitable habitat for native pollinator species is an excellent way to achieve all three of these priorities. Currently, our pollinator community is under threat across Massachusetts, and it is important that we take measures to protect them. The introduction and spread of invasive species, loss of plant biodiversity, and use of certain pesticides and lawn chemicals have resulted in an unprecedented decline in native pollinator species. One way to support our native pollinator community is to create and maintain suitable habitats using native plants, which support species diversity and richness.

During the Stewardship Committee meeting on November 29, 2023, the Sustainability Commission members presented their project idea and there was unanimous support among the members present. The Stewardship Committee strongly supports funding for the Sustainability Commission's initiative to create a pollinator garden extension at the Groton Center and we believe this will be a worthwhile investment of CPA funds.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

//signed//

Re: Support for the Sustainability Commission's grant request

Dear Community Preservation Committee Members:

At our January 3, 2024 meeting, the Destination Groton Committee voted unanimously (5-0) to support the Sustainability Commission's CPC grant request for the first phase of a "Contiguous Pollinator Corridor" project. This project will cause more gardens and trees to be connected and thereby attract bees, butterflies, hummingbirds, and birds of all types.

The Destination Groton committee supports the Sustainability Commissions' efforts to showcase Groton's wonderful natural resources and wildlife.

Sincerely,

Gregory M. Sheldon
