The Committee is very thankful that Al Wyatt took fast action when he noticed that one of the stone retaining walls was beginning to bow out. Al placed a call to Josh Degen asking if he could take a look and give his professional opinion of the wall. It was determined the wall was structurally unsound and closed off for public use immediately. Town Manager, Mark Haddad, also made a prompt visit to the WB to view site.

The Williams Barn Committee sincerely thanks all involved for the immediate response and action taken in repairing the stone wall.
